An Update on BC Ferries' Langdale Terminal Redevelopment Plan

Hello Sunshine Coast Residents,

Our team continues to move forward with the Langdale Terminal Redevelopment project. We held stakeholder and employee workshops in January and are currently reviewing the feedback we received. I'm excited to share upcoming engagement opportunities that you can participate in during February.

We want to hear from you

We are holding engagement sessions at the terminal and on board the Queen of Surrey during the weeks of February 4 to 8 and 18 to 22. You will be able to find us in the waiting room at the terminal and near the Coastal Café on board the vessel. These sessions will happen on a variety of days and at different times during these two weeks to ensure we hear from a wide range and number of our customers.

These events will focus on updating you on the design process, and explaining how concept designs relate to the priorities we heard from you earlier. We will also gather your input on aspects of the design, such as landscaping and a children's play area. At these sessions, we will provide an overview of each element of the project scope, including the overhead walkway, terminal building, parking lot, pick-up/drop-off area upgrades and ticketing plaza. We look forward to hearing your feedback and letting you know where we go from here.

What's next for the project

In the Spring, we will circle back and share a report summarizing what we heard at these sessions. We expect construction on the new overhead walkway and terminal building to start later this year, and the entire project to be complete within three years. We're confident these investments will improve your experience at the terminal when travelling, as well as improve efficiency and contribute to improved safety of the terminal. Our anticipated schedule for the project is below:

What	When
Engagement on design of terminal building and other terminal improvements	January/ February 2019
BC Ferries Commissioner approval of capital investment for the project	Spring 2019
Complete detailed engineering design on terminal building and other terminal improvements	Spring/ Summer 2019
Construction begins	Summer 2019

Draft rendering of the new overhead walkway.

We look forward to engaging with you in February. Please keep sending me your questions and suggestions about the Langdale terminal redevelopment project to michael.pearson@bcferries.com.

Thank you,

Mike
